With proper study notes, studying and passing exams becomes easier and that too with good marks. More importantly, it makes learning more fun. A good example of an integral study habit that students must have is to make study notes. Studying has shown that writing whether done with pen or typing with a keyboard brings into play different cognitive processes. It allows for increased retention as it develops thinking, reasoning, imagining, and remembering.When we are in the higher classes, the course material seems to be endless. There seems to be no limit about how much one can learn. When one takes proper notes in the class, he/she will be able to identify the key points and separate the other stuff easily. This helps to save time and makes the learning process quick.Teachers suggest a lot of books for succeeding during the exams. But is it possible to revise all the books at the last moment of examination? No, it is impossible. Here, effective note-making techniques help a student. You know, some of the successful students summarize the entire books in the short notes form in such an effective way that once we read those notes at the last moment we are able to recall and memorize the whole book.Sometimes we need to find examples of some process, or we just need the explanation of something and nothing more. In such situations, notes help a lot. Those who take the notes effectively has a habit to categorize the information properly. One can easily identify and separate examples, diagrams, explanations, and other things. This helps save time and effort. One can easily recall only that part from the notes that he/she needs to.Improve memoryWriting study notes on paper improves memory, allowing the students to study more when studying and reducing the chances of forgetting. The best thing about notes taking is that it can be taken anywhere. It can be taken while attending lectures, doing laboratory practical, participating in any tutorial or classroom activity, reading a book, etc. The purpose of note-taking is to make the learning process easier and faster. Notes can be taken anywhere. Suppose, if you somehow do not get the chance to attend the class, you can write down the notes later while taking part in some related classroom activity. This helps to get you the clue about what was being taught.Promotes learningMaking study notes stimulates that part of the brain that promotes learning. Like every muscle in the body, the brain can be trained to learn easily in order to absorb new and more information quickly.You use more of your brain when you prepare study notesWhen you write study notes while listening, you tend to make the notes by summarizing, editing and retaining only the most important information.Increase attention spanWith respect to learning, study notes also promote retention. While learning is an imperative part of tutoring, retention is a necessary end goal. Making study notes promotes positive memory as well as the ability to retain information because the mind becomes an active component in studying. Not only do the students understand things better while writing in their own words and handwriting but they also retain it for a longer time.Organize study materialMaking study notes passively increase the likelihood of the students to become more organized. Being organized allows students to prioritize tasks and to finish work on time.There are many benefits of study notes, but practicing proper note-taking is a necessary skill which students should adopt in themselves.About Vidyamandir Classes :Over the years, the name of Vidyamandir Classes (VMC) has become synonymous with success in IITJEE, NEET & FOUNDATION.Their goal at Vidyamandir Classes (VMC) is to provide knowledge and guidance and thereby create an environment that not only guides students to the path of success, but also inspires them to recognize and explore their own potential.The fact that more than 1,00,000 students appear every year for the VMC Test for the limited seats on offer is ample testimony to VMC's popularity and credence within the IITJEE, NEET & FOUNDATION aspirants' community.All Courses are based on the time tested teaching methodology which has been perfected by VMC and which has produced unmatched results in IITJEE consistently over the past 35 years.Physics : Shyam Mohan Gupta - With over 34 years of teaching experience to his credit, he is regarded as an icon and guru of Physics in the test preparation industry. With only 3-4 months left for the term-2 exams, strategized learning is what every exam taker needs to do right now. If the Covid-19 conditions do not worsen by then, the exams will be conducted offline in a subjective way in March-April, 2022.To score well, you must be familiar with the syllabus of the term-2 exams, which is different from the previous years. The term-2 exams will comprise only 50% (or the remaining part) of the syllabus. The CBSE announced that the exam will be held for 120 minutes in a subjective format if the pandemic situation does not worsen by then.Now that you know the syllabus for the upcoming exam, you must start studying with an exam-oriented approach. Keep the following 5 points in your strategy and prepare for outshining the term-2 exams:Divide equal time to each subject. As the time is limited, you have to ensure that all the subjects get equal preparation time. Dividing equal time will help you prepare equally. Thus, it will build your confidence for all the exams equally.Start from more challenging topics. Don't make the mistake of keeping the hard topics with larger weightage for the last. You may end up lagging because of the lack of time. So, don't wait till the last to discover the actual weightage of topics. Analyze the crucial topics from the previous year papers and plan accordingly. Solve chapter wise previous year papers.Practice from chapter wise previous year CBSE question papers. It is a given that CBSE class-12th term-2 exams are being conducted for the first time. But the exam is going to be conducted subjectively. Thus, you can solve previous year's questions through books curated in a chapter-wise manner, such as MTC's CBSE Champion.Keep handwritten notes for last-minute revision. While understanding your chapters, make chapter wise notes cleanly and concisely. Add Flow charts, diagrams, important formulas and all the important points to your revision.Even if the exam is subjective, ensuring a good hold of concepts will help you phrase the subjective answers easily.Solve Term-2 based Sample papers. Don't skip solving Sample Papers For 12th Boards for maths, physics, chemistry and biology. The CBSE-based, term-2 sample papers will help you in being familiar with the exam pattern of CBSE Class 12th term 2 exams.Tips to keep in mind during the exam :The CBSE is going to conduct the term-2 exams subjectively and the time duration will be two hours for the 50% of the syllabus. You have to ensure an exam-solving strategy and make a habit of practicing questions in a similar way so that you have an idea of how to manage time during paper solving.Be on time in the exam hall. On the exam day make sure to reach the examination centre on time as, you may end up in hassle. Be on time and before if possible. Keep your thoughts calm and clear as any hassle may lead to confusions or loss of what you learnt.Carry all the important stationaries, admit cards and a water bottle. You will have very limited time to solve your exam ensure that you do not waste any single minute. Take all the things that you may need during the two hours of your CBSE Class-12th Term-2 exam.Do not get indulged in any unfair means. Ensure an exam preparation so well that you do not have to look up from your paper unnecessarily. Do not try to get indulged in any means that may lead to your disqualification during the term-2 exam as this will result in a very bad impression in your career ahead.Read the question paper and plan how you are going to solve the papers. You will get enough time before the start of exam, to read the question paper. Read and plan how much time you are going to provide to each one of your answers.Revise and rerevise your attempts until the last. Even if you finish the paper early, don't submit before your time is up. Recheck your answers and look up for any potential points you may have missed in your answers. Maintain a neat answer sheet.CBSE provides high priority to a disciplined copy. So, try to maintain one and you will surely score the marks that your preparation deserves.As only a couple of months are left in you board exams so start preparing perfectly from now only.
